1. With the whole sheet open and blank side up, fold lengthwise.

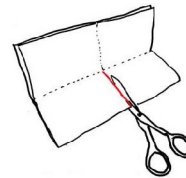

2. Open the sheet and fold crosswise.

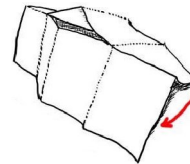

3. Leaving it folded, fold it lengthwise.

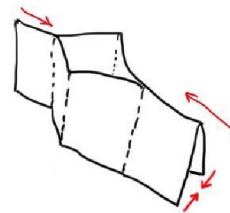

4. Open this last fold and make a cut, starting at the folded edge and cutting along the crease, just to the center.

5. Open the sheet and fold lengthwise.

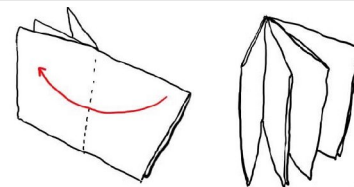

6. Holding at the two end segments, move them inwards so the center pages open out in a diamond shape.

7. Keep moving the ends together until they meet in the center.

8. Carefully fold the 4 double-layered pages into a book with the boy's face as the cover.

9. Glue-stick the open edges of the double layers together if you like.
